

- DURGESHWAR TEMPLE, AMTA

In the Uluberia subdivision of Howrah district, Melai Chandi temple is situated in the Amta-I CD block. In the temple premises there has a Shiva temple, known as Durgeshwar Shiv, which was built under the patronage of Madan Mohan Dutta, the twenty-one descendent, born in Hatkhola Dutta family, Kolkata.

a marble floor and a roof of the usual Bengali type. The image is in stone, 3½ feet high, with a vermilion-painted face. In the same enclosure stands another temple of Siva with a roof of the Bengali style of architecture, which was built at the expense of the late Bābu Madanmohan Datta of Hātkholā, Calcutta. The

Bengal District Gazetteers- Howrah (1909 AD), by L.S.S. O'Malley and Monmohan Chakravarti | Chapter-XV, p148

Durgeshwar Temple at the Melai Chandi temple premises.

Picture Courtesy: Biswaroop Ganguly, Nov 2015.

Source : gangulybiswarup.wordpress.com/2015/11/15/melai-chandi-mandir-amta-howrah-2/